

Q4 Tax-Loss Seasonality, 2018–2025

2,367 tickers · 8 fourth quarters, 2018 to 2025 · 15,046 stock-years · live read through the Oct 9, 2026 close

The read. The strongest signal is the September sort run as a long/short: own the stocks that fell in September, short the ones that rose, Oct 15 → Dec 31. +4.09% a year, $t +3.9$, positive 7 of 8 years, worst year -0.4%. By market cap it holds in large ($10–200B: full Q4 positive 8 of 8 years), mid ($t +3.1$) and small caps (+5.5% a year), and fails in mega-caps over $200B, where September losers lagged SPY in 6 of 8 years. Long-only baskets beat SPY on average, mostly through beta. On the 1Y sort alone Q4 is a tie (Sharpe 1.08 vs 1.10); 1Y losers get sold Oct 1–15; January adds nothing.

Setup: long September losers, short September winners, equal weight, $200B market cap and under. Entry Oct 15. Exit Dec 31. Invalidation: spread below -0.4% at Dec 31, worse than any year since 2018. Ranking on page 2, names on page 3.

What the terms mean

1Y = a stock's total return over the 12 months ending Sep 30. 1M or Sep = its return in September alone.

Quintiles (fifths) measure how a stock's 1-year return ranks against every other stock. Each Sep 30, all ~2,300 stocks are lined up from the lowest 1-year return to the highest and split into five equal groups of ~460. Worst 20% = the 460 stocks with the lowest 1-year returns. Worst 20–40% = the next 460. Middle 20%, best 20–40%, then best 20% = the 460 highest. This year: worst 20% = below -23.6%; worst 20–40% = -23.4% to -3.0%; middle = -2.9% to +14.9%; best 20–40% = +14.9% to +39.7%; best 20% = above +39.7%.

NN / NP / PN / PP = 1Y negative or positive, then September negative or positive (NN = down on both, PP = up on both).

N-P = negative group's return minus positive group's.

Findings

- 1Y sort: no Q4 edge. Sharpe 1.08 vs 1.10; Q4 spread +1.54%, $t +0.8$.
- 1M sort: the clean Q4 edge. September losers minus September winners +3.37% in Q4 ($t +3.7$, positive 7 of 8); Oct 15–Dec 31 +4.09% ($t +3.9$, positive 7 of 8, worst year -0.35%).
- Oct 1–15 is the flush. 1Y losers minus winners -1.31% ($t -3.0$), 1Y+1M -1.88%, worst vs best 20% on 1Y -2.80%. October is also the worst calendar month for the 1Y spread after SPY beta (-1.35%).
- Mid-October to mid-December is the recovery. 1Y+1M neg minus pos, Oct 15–Dec 15: +5.66% ($t +2.6$, positive 6 of 8, worst -2.67%, ex-2020 +4.35%). Basket alpha +16.3% annualized. Nov 1–15 (+2.81%) and Dec 1–15 (+1.94%, positive 7 of 8) carry it; Dec 16–31 is flat (-0.36% on the 1Y sort).
- The relative low prints in November. The loser-vs-winner path bottomed in November in 5 of 8 years (2020, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025).
- January is dead. 1Y losers minus winners -0.17%, 1Y+1M -0.88%. Dec 15 re-sort to Jan 31: 1Y losers Sharpe 0.57 vs winners 0.81; 1Y best 20% 1.24 beats -30%-or-worse losers 0.84.
- Mega-caps over $200B: the September bounce fails. September losers lagged SPY from Oct 15 to Dec 15 in 6 of 8 years (-2.2% a year, $t -2.5$); the long/short is flat. In the top 50 names there is no loser effect at all (page 4).
- Long-only edge is mostly beta. Basket A beat SPY by +3.0% a year ($t +1.4$), basket B by +7.8% ($t +1.6$). The spread trades are where the signal is.

Strategy ranking by market cap, 2018–2025

Every strategy tested in each market-cap tier. Long/short strategies are scored on the yearly long-minus-short return; long-only on the yearly basket return minus SPY. t = average divided by its standard error across the 8 years; higher means a steadier, stronger signal. Market cap at each Sep 30 is estimated from today's market cap and the stock's price change since then.

Overall ranking, top 14

Quintiles = 1-year return rank. All ~2,300 stocks are lined up by their 1-year return to Sep 30 and split into five equal groups. The group tells you how bad or good a stock's last 12 months were compared with everything else. This year's groups:

Group (ranked by 1-year return, Sep 30, 2026)	1-year return range	Stocks
Worst 20% (lowest 1-year returns)	below -23.6%	461
Worst 20–40%	-23.4% to -3.0%	461
Middle 20%	-2.9% to +14.9%	461
Best 20–40%	+14.9% to +39.7%	461
Best 20% (highest 1-year returns)	above +39.7%	461

The three best baskets for Oct 15 → Dec 15, tested 2018–2025. A has the best odds (up 7 of 8 years, mildest bad year). B has the highest Sharpe and alpha with more swing. C held among the top 100 but not when mega-caps are defined by market cap (page 2), so treat it as weak. Every name carries its basket's record; the study tests baskets, not single stocks.

Mega-caps, 2018–2025

The main study equal-weights roughly 2,000 names, so AAPL counts the same as a $2B stock. Here the same tests run only on the 100 (and 50) biggest names, re-picked at each Sep 30 from data available then (past market caps aren't in the data, so trading activity stands in for size), so the list never uses hindsight.

Read: the Oct 1–15 flush shows up in the top 100 (–1.39%, losers lag 6 of 8 years). After that the loser edge is directional but not significant: Q4 Sharpe 0.89 vs 0.87, Oct 15–Dec 15 spread +2.61% (t +0.6). In the top 50 it disappears (Q4 –0.77%). The one mega-cap bucket that stands out is 1Y negative with a positive September: about 8 names, Oct 15–Dec 15 +11.1% vs SPY +4.7%, beat SPY 7 of 7 years.

Where in Q4 losers lag and lead

Sep 30 sort held through January; each bar is the 2018–2025 average of yearly losers-minus-winners returns in that half-month.

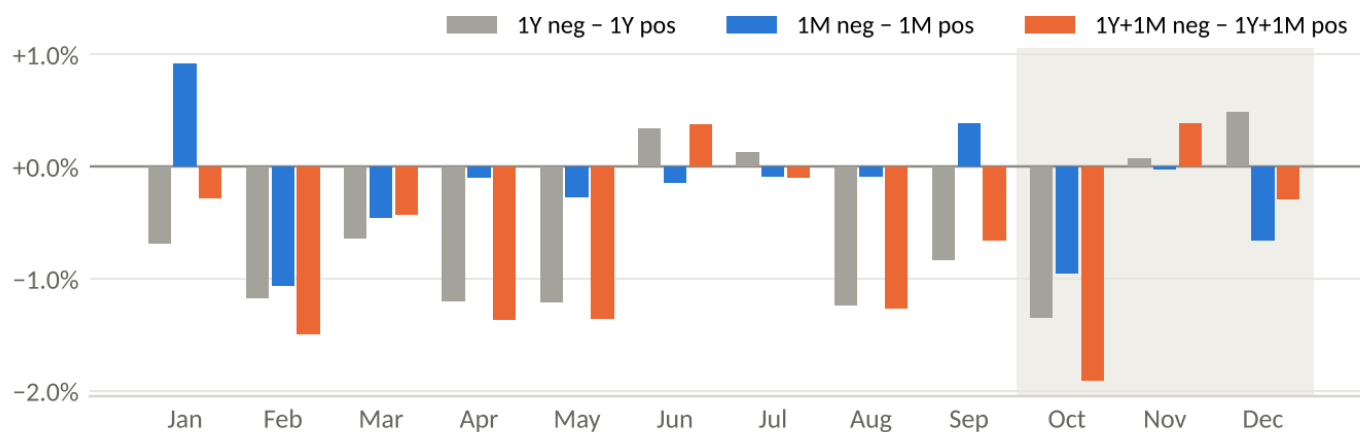

Cumulative relative return since Sep 30 (losers' growth over winners' growth)

Every calendar month, Jan 2018 to Sep 2026 (alpha after SPY beta, Q4 shaded)

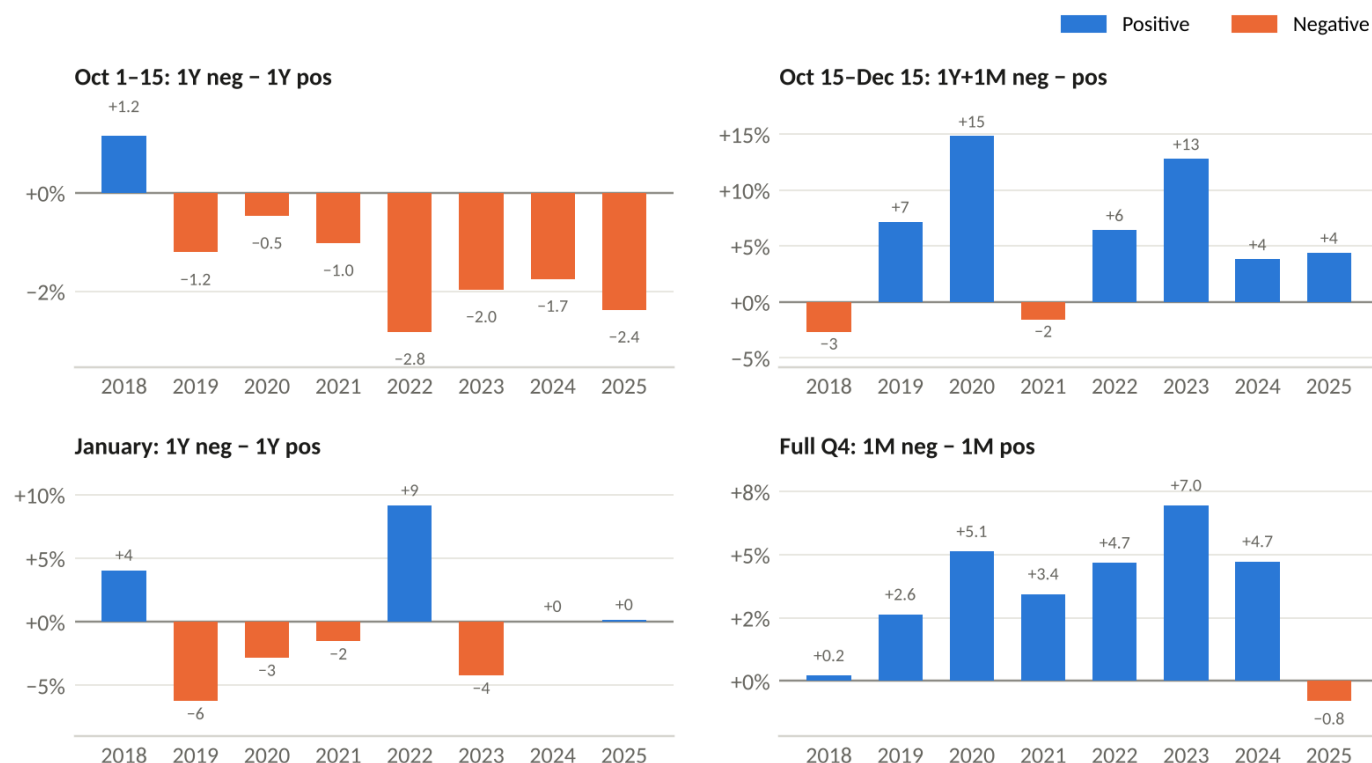

Same sorts re-formed at every month-end; next-month spread regressed on SPY with month dummies.

Year by year

N-P = negative minus positive; NN-PP = 1Y+1M negative minus 1Y+1M positive. Trough = day the 1Y loser-vs-winner path (after SPY beta) bottomed between Oct 1 and Jan 31. Jan and trough dates fall in the following January.

1Y losers vs winners QTD, against the 2018–2025 Oct 1–15 pattern

Method

Universe. The 2,367 tickers in the uploaded finviz list. Daily dividend- and split-adjusted price data from Yahoo Finance via yfinance. Formation years 2018–2025 for the Q4 work; Q1 2018 through Q3 2026 for the other-quarter comparison; Jan 2018 through Sep 2026 for calendar months. 15,046 stock-years pass the Sep 30 screen.

Signals. Formed at the last trading day of September: 1Y = trailing 12-month total return, 1M = September return. Eligibility: a full 12 months of history; untradeable micro-shells are screened out. Buckets are equal-weighted at formation and held without rebalancing. Daily returns are clipped to -80% / $+150\%$ to remove bad ticks.

Statistics. Annualized return, vol, Sharpe and Sortino pool all daily returns inside the window across years. Sharpe and Sortino are over 13-week T-bills ($\text{\textasciix}$). Alpha and beta are from daily returns vs SPY. t-stats use one observation per year (8 years). Calendar-month alphas regress the monthly spread on SPY with month dummies (HC1 errors).

Universe bias. The list is today's survivors, so delisted losers are missing, which lifts loser returns. Comparing windows and quarters on the same universe nets most of it out.
